A MONTH OF CELEBRATIONS

The 4th of July - one of the most celebrated days of the year. With backyard barbeques and explosions in the sky, its pretty hard to not be on board with that holiday. But, there are 30 more days in July. Why not ride the coattails of Independence Day and try to eek out a little more fun in one of our precious summer months?

A simple internet search will yield quite a large amount of "holidays" to be celebrated. From the ridiculous to the slightly less ridiculous, there seems to be something for every day of the month. And while we're pretty sure these are mostly made up, we figured why not use them as an excuse to break up your daily routine and add a little random fun to your summer days. Enjoy!
